(Articles in the "Articles" section)

1966-77, the First Twelve Years

Alphabetical Listing by Author.....Pages 1 - 13

Names of multi-authorship are entered separately, with complete information under the first author. Numerals on the two sides of a colon indicate the volume and number respectively; the month and year are separated by a slanting bar; page numbers are around a hyphen. Example: 5:3, 10/70, 82-106. It means Number Three of Volume Five, October of 1970, and Pages 82 through 106.

Index of Key Words.....Pages 14 - 20

This is a combined reference of the subject and title. The key words are actual words in the title which are indicative of areas in the content. For example, in the title "Teaching Elementary and Intermediate Written Chinese at Harvard" all the underlined words are key words by which the article can be looked up. After each key word the author's last name, the volume and number, and the page numbers are given. Notations are as described in the above paragraph.
